

Import Bills Under Collection

Handling your shipping documents with ease

DBS acts as your agent to handle import document and make payment on your behalf.

No credit facility with DBS is required.

An alternative lower cost solution to Letter of Credit.

At a glance

- DBS acts as a collection agent of the remitting bank (seller's banker) to collect payment from you (buyer).
- Documents against Acceptance (DA) – documents are released against your acceptance on the Bill of Exchange drawn on you for payment at a future date.
- Documents against Payment (DP) – documents are released to you against payment.

Designed for

- Traders, merchandisers, wholesalers, and manufacturers engaged in buying and selling of various merchandise such as commodities, household goods, etc.

How it works

Your benefit

- Save time and receive your goods quickly and efficiently

- Lower your risk as compared to using an open account* payment method.

Our solutions

- DBS effects payment to seller only after you have accepted the Bill of Exchange or when you make payment.

How does Import Bill Under Collection work?

1. Seller and Buyer enter into contract and agree that payment will be made on the basis of documentary collection.
2. Seller ships the goods and tenders the documents to its bank (Remitting Bank) together with a corresponding collection order.
3. Remitting Bank sends the documents along with collection instructions to DBS (Collecting Bank).
4. DBS notifies Buyer of arrival of documents, for payment and acceptance.
5. Buyer pays the amount due or accepts the draft and in turn receives the documents.
6. DBS remits the payment amount to Remitting Bank.
7. Remitting Bank credits the payment amount to Seller's account.
